Adaptive reuse of “The Old Binley Vicarage”, from an eighteenth century historic house and stables into a live/work community for seventeen members and staff. The renovation was completed in cooperation with English Heritage Standards. Community members and volunteers completed the majority of the renovations using reclaimed and salvaged materials. Found materials were milled and fabricated in an on workshop to provide structure and furnishings for the Project. A materials reclamation workshop was established at the completion of the renovations to provide work for members and financial support for the community.
